There will be a Welcome Party Happy Hour with Snack Food, Beverages and Cash Bar Thursday April 23, in early evening.

The events be commemorated are a once in a lifetime series of things kind of like a total solar eclipse of the Sun by the alignment of the Earth, Moon and Sun. Then on Sunday April 26, 2020 we will be leaving the Woodlands about 10:00 A.M. to go to Orange, Texas to present the First ASHRAE 125th Anniversary HVAC&R Industry Pilot Historical Milestone Plaque Award to the:

First Presbyterian Church Orange, Texas 2:00 P.M.
Houston Chapter ASHRAE Sponsoring Entity 2019-20

The award is based on the facts that the church was commissioned and designed in 1907 by an architect and engineer, constructed 1908 to 1912 and dedicated in 1912. The building was intentionally designed with a Central Plant and Air Conditioning System, Ductwork and ASMEP Construction Drawings. The entire report and construction documents can be downloaded from the Houston Chapter Website Historical Archive Register section. Since the first air -conditioned building in the US was installed in 1902 and the early A/C systems were usually added to an existing industrial building, business offices, hotels, and/or movie theaters. This has to be one of the earliest intentionally designed buildings to be air conditioned.

There have been two different types of systems actually installed. The initial Plans issued in about 1907 showed an Anhydrous compressor, chilled & condenser water pumps and AHU driven by a steam boiler and driven by a dual acting low RPM steam motor and steam boiler. However, Kroeschell Company history states that they were awarded the Central plant in 1906 and they utilized a Kroeschell High Pressure CO2 compressor AHU and Steel pipe evaporator driven by electric motor and finally in 1929 the Carrier Corporation install a new AHU, Dx evaporator coil Compressors and cooling tower. That Carrier AHU is still in daily operation to keep the Church cool.
